Yet it appears that Stephenson had the hardbood to refet to Bristol in his own, cosch, with his wen crest upon it. He sent back his two line grey horses to London, and travelled on title hird horses, the company with his own than, and Lloyd, his clerk. On triving at the liristol coast, he put to sea in a kind skiff, between Bidefurl and the lale of undy, in the Bristol Channel, and had been skiff, between Bidefurl and the lale of qudy, in the Bristol Channel, and had been ailing off the coast night and day, waiting is a vessel foreign bound." The Cambrian, hiefs arrived at New York on the same day ben the last French arrival brought the laws of Stephenson's flight, had been well arched before she left Portsmouth, by a blictior who went in quest of a flaudulent ankrupt, and who knew Stephenson well, as by the directions of the Admiralty avelfast satisfing vessels were in pursult, and cakiff was known, it was supposed to be a possible that Stephenson should exape.

Jarge a reward as would be earned by his possible that Stephenson should escape, large a reward as would be earned by his preliension would ensure the vigilance of the police. Mr. Peel had declared that the hole navy of England should be employed, successary, in apprehending him. Warnts, were out against him, for embezzling chequer bills, and if caught, he was to unergo an immediate, examination in Bowrest. It is said that there is no doubt that, such case, he will be convicted of a capifoliony; as he had no interest in the exequer bills, upon which, with other seculies, he raised the sum of $1,000l. The set probable account at the latest date was, at Stephenson and his clerk were, on the luft, on Lundy Island, where there are on-a light house, and one farm house. The weather had prevented boats from ching it on the succeeding day. It was not succeeding day.

Crusberry, Middleses Gognty, N. J Br William Swaim, Philadelphia;

Mr William Swaim Phitadelphia;
Sin-Being for a few days at this place, and having heard actonishing accounts of the cure of Mrs. Sarah Applegate, of a disease which had be filed the at III of the best physicians for aven gazy. I determined to call and he convinced if it, were strictly true. I found her enjoying good health, when she assured me had been the case for the last three years—from the time she had been cured by the use of Swaim's Panacea. use of Swalm's Panacea.

The horrid ravages made by the disease, are of course visible, and the lower extremities present an appearance which beggars description; that inroads on the human system without producing death, is as astonishing as round, racks and canters; no perceiva-it is wonderful. She informs me that ble work marks. Given under my in June, 1818, a tumor formed immediately below the knee, which was ex tremely painful, the uneasiness and swelling of it caused her so much a larm, that she applied to a medical gentleman for relief The tumor opened, and was succeeded by many others not others, until the whole limb was so vered with large corroding ulcers - Medical skill was entirely unavailing to check the progress of the disease, and the patient was reduced to a most deplorable condition, he flesh seemed to be separated from the bones—the immense discharge from so many ul immense discharge from so many urcers, completely prostrated the patient's strength, her appetite was gone;

and nature nearly exhausted.

In this state of misery Mrs Apple gate passed under the hands of severa skilful Physicians, without experienc-ing benefit for a period of seven years

To give you a just idea of her suf ferings, as gathered from her own candid and artless description. I confes my utter inability. She lingered on sometimes able to take a little exer cise in a carriage, and then again un able to leave her bed for several suc-cessive mouths, until about five years after she was first attacked with the disease, when as she was riding the riage threw her out, and caused compound fracture of the hip. Under this accumulation of misery and suf fering she lingered two years. Her bones and integuments were laid bare large pieces of the remaining flesh she had were constantly sloughing out, and her situation was wretched and pitiable beyond comparison, cheered by no ray of hope, doomed to wear a way a miserable existence, and hourly wishing for death. She was told hy some of her friends that Swaim's Pa naces would if any thing could, re here Mrs Applegate consented to remove; and did remove to Philadelphis; this removal was with difficulty accomplished, and she remained, as the usual remedies had been long tried without effect—those of Mrs Offner and Mrs Campbell.

Three years have elapsed since that time she has become the happy me time she has become the happy me ther of a daughter, and a finer or nealthier infant I never beheld. This fact, while it is a convincing proof of the efficacy of your medicine in removing affections that originate from HENRY PRICE,
